

Monday Memo

■ January 9, 2017

January 9:	Spring semester begins
January 16:	Martin Luther King, Jr. holiday
January 20:	Faculty Meeting , 3:30 p.m., Carnegie Cinema
February 22:	Arthur W. Page Awards Dinner
March 6-10:	Spring Break
March 21:	Oweida Lecture: Marty Baron , 7 p.m., Freeman Auditorium
March 27:	Pockrass Lecture: Mara Einstein , 6 p.m., Foster Auditorium
April 14:	College Awards Ceremony , 3 p.m., Nittany Lion Inn

Announcement

Faculty should send a copy of their spring semester syllabi to BB Muré by January 13.

Faculty & Staff News

Rob Frieden won the 2017 Meheroo Jussawalla Research Prize Award from the Pacific Telecommunications Council for his paper, "Grey Nuances in the Black and White Debate Over Subsidized Internet Access."

Publication

Benjamin W. Cramer and Martin E. Halstuk. "Crash and Learn: The Inability of Transparency Laws to Penetrate American Monetary Policy." William & Mary Bill of Rights Journal 25 (2016): 195-234.

Student Achievements

Leon Valsechi won eighth place and Mark Fischer won thirteenth place in the feature writing competition of the Hearst Journalism Awards.

Alumni

Erin Ford ('15 Media) is an account executive at Success Communications Group.

Bill Landis ('11 Journ) is a sportswriter at the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Miranda Zackowski ('12 Ad/PR) is an account supervisor at Weber Shandwick.