

Monday Memo

■ September 22, 2014

Calendar

September 24:	Faculty Meeting
September 25:	Curley Center Conversation: Jay Paterno
October 4:	College of Communications Open House
October 6:	Pot Luck Comfort Food Lunch
October 6:	Pockrass Memorial Lecture
October 7-8:	Foster-Foreman Conference of Distinguished Writers
October 21:	Ben Bronstein Lecture in Ethics and Public Relations
November 12:	Digital Journalism Panel
November 14-21:	Global Entrepreneurship Week

Announcement

The Foster-Foreman Conference of Distinguished Writers will be held October 7-8. John Branch, a staff writer with the New York Times and winner of the Pulitzer Prize, will speak on October 7 at 7 p.m. in the HUB-Robeson Center Alumni Hall. Michael Sokolove, a freelance writer and author of Drama High, will speak on October 8 at 10:10 a.m. in the HUB-Robeson Center Auditorium.

Faculty & Staff News

Photographs by John Beale are part of the "Marcellus Shale Documentary Project" that will be on display at the Palmer Museum of Art starting on September 23.

"Ripped," a feature-length film by Rod Bingaman and Maura Shea, was accepted into the FirstGlance Film Fest in Philadelphia and will be screened on October 18 at the Franklin Institute Theater.

Publication

Patrick Parsons. "The 'Most Thrilling Invention Since the Radio Itself!': The Evolution of the Radio Remote Control in the 1920s and 1930s." Journal of Radio & Audio Media 21, no.1 (2014): 66-79.

Alumni

Michelle Asmara ('12 Adv/PR, '12 MA) is a strategist at Arc Worldwide.

Michael Catalini ('06 Journ) is a reporter with the Associated Press based in Trenton, N.J.

Shadé Olasimbo ('12 Journ) is an associate producer at Penn State Public Media.