

Anthony F. Barbieri

213 Carnegie

University Park, PA 16802

afb15@psu.edu

816-863-2682

Teaching experience:

Current position: 2007 – present, Foster Professor of Writing and Editing Penn State University

Courses taught:

- COMM 168 – American Journalism Values
- COMM 409 – Media Ethics
- COMM 402 – International Reporting
- COMM 260 – News Writing and Reporting
- COMM 460 – Reporting Methods

University of Maryland, 2005-2007

Lecturer, Philip Merrill College of Journalism,

Courses taught:

- Capital News Service – directed graduate level program in public affairs reporting, Annapolis.
- Media ethics

Academic highlights and experience:

- Spring semester 2010. Developed and launched (with John Curley) gen. ed. course, COMM 168, American Journalism Values.
- Spring semester 2009. Developed and launched COMM 402 (International Reporting). Led spring semester reporting trips to Rio de Janeiro (2012), Cape Town (2011), Shanghai (2010) and Mexico City (2009.)

Professional highlights and experience:

- Managing Editor, The Baltimore Sun, 2000 to 2004. This is the No. 2 newsroom job for a 300,000-daily, 465,000-Sunday circulation newspaper.
- Chain-of-command responsibility for supervising all aspects of the newspaper, which includes three daily zoned editions; five to seven daily sections, and 10 Sunday sections.
- Daily decision making on such core journalistic questions as story play; news judgment; questions of ethics and taste; legal liability; long-term supervision of news coverage and the allocation of resources to news gathering.

- Joint responsibility (with the editor) for managing the newsroom's 385-person staff. This includes recruiting and hiring all journalists; making of work assignments, promotions, salaries, continuing education and professional development.
- Joint responsibility (with the editor) for managing the newsroom's annual budget of between $35 and $40 million.
- Supervision of the senior editors who supervise the following departments: photo; graphics; page design; metro; sports; business news; features; news and copy desks.
- Ultimate responsibility (with the editor) for the newspaper's standards, integrity, values, story selections and choices, policies, style and appearance.
- Ultimate responsibility (with the editor) for leadership and for generating enthusiasm, energy, enterprise, aggressive news coverage and competitive fire among the staff.

Work history:

- Penn State University, 2007 to present
- University of Maryland, 2005 – 2007
- The Baltimore sun, managing editor, 6/2000 to 8/2004.
- assistant managing editor/metro. 1997 to 2000. Supervised 105 person news staff covering news of Baltimore region and Maryland.
- assistant managing editor/news. 1993 to 1997. Supervised news desk, made page one news decision, responsible for 36 person copy desk and 30 person news design team. In charge of newsroom production staff, allocation of space and meeting press deadlines.
- city editor. 1989 to 1993. Supervised government, politics, education, crime and courts news for Baltimore.
- Tokyo correspondent. 1984-1988. Covered Japan, Korea, Philippines and Southeast Asia from home base in Tokyo.
- Moscow correspondent. 1979-1983. Covered the former Soviet Union, Eastern Europe, Afghanistan and the former Soviet Bloc from home base in Moscow.
- Washington correspondent. 1977-1979. Covered congress and U.S. politics.
- Maryland politics and government. 1974-1977.
- Reporter, metro desk, 1970-1973.

Committees, public service, etc.

- Office of Global Programs, travel grant committee 2011- present
- College of Communications, academic integrity committee 2010-present
- Overseas Press Club, judge Hal Boyle Award for foreign reporting 2012-present
- Dean's Excellence Award for Teaching, 2010-2011

Education:

- B.A., politics. George Washington University, 1970.
- DOB 6/14/47, Schenectady, N.Y.

Professional societies:

- Associated Press Managing Editors (APME.) Board of Directors (2002 to 2005),
- American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE.)
- Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communications
- Radio and Television News Directors Association