To Whom It May Concern:

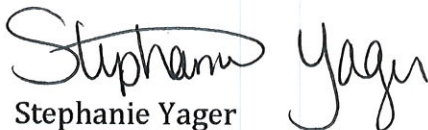

I am writing to recommend Briana Bove for a position with CommAgency. Briana was great to have at C-NET. She performed all of her duties well and was a delight to work with.

C-NET covers community events and municipal and school board meetings in their entirety. Almost all of our production is done in the field. Our production environments range from meeting rooms to festival streets. Some of our productions are live broadcast on cable, some are web streamed live, and all are recorded for cable broadcast and web streaming on demand. In addition to other various meetings and events during her time at C-NET Briana covered a weekly meeting with me, which was live web streamed and live broadcast. The equipment and procedures for making everything happen were perhaps unique exposure for Briana. Briana set up and operated cameras and audio equipment at these events. In some cases we use our own microphones and others we take audio feeds from house audio systems. She needed little to no guidance with setup and operation after our standard orientation. She demonstrated maturity and respect in her behavior at these events and meetings, some of which can be over 3 hours long, not including the time it takes to load our equipment in and out.

Generally our interns like Briana don't do day-to-day editing but they are assigned special projects. Briana worked on a project highlighting our local Memorial Day celebration, which is a big event with street festival, speeches, and historical re-enactments. Briana worked with another intern to produce and edit that project using Premiere. She was a self-starter and needed little technical assistance as she worked.

I hope you, too, find Briana to be an asset and a pleasure to have on your team.

Sincerely,

Stephanie Yager
Operations Manager
