Dear Sir or Madam:

It is with great pleasure and honor to write this letter of recommendation for Kennedy Bell. I express my strong support in her future endeavors in the journalism and communications field. I am proud to say that I have direct, first-hand knowledge of her work ethic and abilities. Kennedy is more than just a dedicated intern, but she will truly be an asset to the industry.

While at C-SPAN, I had the pleasure of managing Kennedy while she worked in our International Programming department. Her enthusiasm for new challenges and assignments as well as her dedication, attitude and drive were some of her greatest strength and her impressive resume speaks volumes. Kennedy is a fast learner, which is very important in a busy newsroom environment.

By the end of her internship, Kennedy was efficient in drafting on-air scripts and graphics and could effectively produce our international coverage. She was a dedicated worker and was instrumental in helping us with several key international events. For the developing immigration story, Kennedy drafted a proposal for an in-depth look at the current state of U.S.-Mexico relations. The proposal included background information into the situation, suggested questions for the host, and on-air guest recommendations. She was also instrumental in helping to produce President Trump's overseas trips, the 2018 Mexican Presidential debates, a summer series examining Canada's response to the border crisis and daily White House and State Department briefings.

Kennedy understands the fast-paced environment of working in the nation's capital and in a newsroom setting. I'm confident she will continue to be an excellent asset to any company or organization and have no doubt she will help break new ground in the field of journalism and communications. The world needs more talented thinkers and doers like Kennedy and I can't think of a better person for your company!
