To Whom It May Concern,

I welcome this opportunity to heartily write a letter of recommendation on behalf of Emeral Baptiste. I am Emeral's News Reporting professor at Penn State University's Harrisburg Campus, and throughout the fall 2017 semester I have been very impressed with her drive, dedication, and work ethic. Emeral has an impressive attendance record and has shown improvement with every news story she has written throughout the course. She is always looking for ways to develop and further her reporting and writing skills, and has the determination needed in the competitive world of journalism.

I received both my Master's in Journalism and Doctorate in Media and Communications from Temple University. Therefore, I understand the value and quality students receive in Temple's program and believe Emeral would be a strong asset to your internship. I highly recommend her for your program, and if you would like to discuss Emeral's attributes in more detail, please do not hesitate to contact me at (717) 571-5450.

Respectfully yours,

Stephanie Morrow, PhD
