

I want an internship because I am really interested in learning more skills to help with my career in the Broadcast Journalism world. I hope to get hands on experience learning how to use equipment, and learning how to make myself stand out to employers. I am also looking to make new connections with the staff. I aspire to be a news anchor on a more national level like GMA or Entertainment Tonight. I would like to start at a local new channel in D.C. first.