

I desire an internship to help build my resume as well as gain more experience within my future field of work. It is also a great opportunity to travel and experience other cultures outside the United States. By working as an intern abroad, this will allow me to learn and gain more outside knowledge of media and communications from a world viewpoint. By being taking this opportunity to intern, I can push myself to learn how to adapt into my work field as well as learn to communicate with others from a different country's viewpoint. Interning will also allow me to utilize my current skills and improve as well as enhance my skillset for future employers.
