

First of all I am very interested in studio production and entertainment and I would like to be involved in this industry in the future (going for SNL is my dream). I am also interested in baseball and I would love to be involved in an internship related to this sport. And I'm also learning about studio. I think this is a great opportunity for me to learn more about In Game Production. I also think this internship is a great opportunity for me to work on my teamwork and communication skills.
