To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to recommend Stacy Radecki for the NEH program Making Holocaust and Genocide Education Relevant Through Inquiry and Classroom Application. I have known Stacy as a colleague for the past few years and find her to be a dedicated and enthusiastic educator who strives to expose her students to a variety of curricular experiences that they cannot get from a textbook.

We first met as members of the Northeast Michigan cohort of the Teacher Advisory Group for the Zekelman Holocaust Center in Michigan during the 2020-2021 school year. She always had interesting and informed contributions to group discussion, and had evidence to back up her ideas for lesson planning and student activities. We both continued as members of the statewide Advisory Group the following year, and I saw no change in the quality of input to benefit the group as a whole.

When we were both chosen as inaugural Auschwitz Legacy Fellows, we decided that we would room together on the trip. It would be the first time we actually met in person, as the Teacher Advisory Group meetings were all conducted via Zoom platform. I was happy to learn that Stacy is very personable and fun to be around, and she is a great addition to any group, whether it be social or professional. We talked often about our ideas for bringing back what we learned in Poland to our classrooms, as well as general ideas for teaching a number of topics related and unrelated to Holocaust education.

I know that Stacy would be a positive addition to this NEH program on the Holocaust and Genocide Education, and both she and the other participants would benefit from her presence. She is a dynamic and creative person who is not afraid to share ideas and discuss relevant issues surrounding historical topics. I recommend her without hesitation for your program.

Sincerely,
