

I desire having an internship opportunity so that I am able to experience different types of careers that I might be interested in. This would allow me to feel more confident in my career choice after college. My future career aspirations are to find a job in the media and communications field possibly in a marketing and media position. My hopes in having an internship are that I can have more experience in the field I am interested in going into, as well as giving me a better idea of my strengths and weaknesses.
