

Alyssa Romeo
COMM 495 Internship

I would strongly benefit from an internship this semester to gain experience and expand my skillset as I complete my last semester of college. At this internship with Behrman communications, I am looking forward to understanding the difference between in-house and agency, while taking on the responsibilities that an entry-level PR role would require. With this internship, my resume will be well-rounded and I will be able to learn from other professionals. Overall, this internship will provide me with more experience working for clients, and can open the doors up for a job opportunity upon graduation. After graduation, I hope to get a job in creative advertising or a PR role at a beauty or fashion brand.
