

From an internship, I desire to gain field experience in marketing. Being a communications major, I only get minimal marketing experience. Having an internship in marketing will help me foster direct marketing techniques and experiences. I also hope to simply network with employers and supervisors, possibly leading to a future job within this field. I feel from having an internship I will learn the ropes of a marketing job and further develop skills with my desired career industry.